

JOIN DANIEL FINCH-RACE AND
CHRISTIE MARGRAVE FOR THEIR ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION OF

FRENCH WOMEN WRITING THE ENVIRONMENT DURING THE LONG NINETEENTH CENTURY

French women writers in the 19th century explored environmental themes through literature, critiquing gender roles and humanity's relationship with nature. Join us as we discuss how women writers examined ecological concerns before mainstream discourse, and how their works shaped early eco-conscious literary traditions.

17th June 2025
9am (BST), 6pm
(AEST), 8pm (NZST)

Hosted by Women in French: Australia

